WELCOME TO YOUR home ON THE ROAD.

WITH ALASKA MOTORHOME RENTALS®

IF YOU HAVE NEVER DRIVEN A MOTORHOME BEFORE, NO PROBLEM. ALL OF OUR MOTORHOMES ARE CLASS C “CABOVERS”, SIMPLY A HOME BUILT ON A VAN CHASSIS, AND MOST OF OUR GUESTS TELL US IT’S AS EASY AS DRIVING A CAR. HERE ARE ANSWERS TO SOME COMMON QUESTIONS TO HELP YOU BECOME MORE COMFORTABLE WITH YOUR HOME ON WHEELS.

What’s the driver’s cab like?

You have a tilt wheel, two captain’s chairs with arm rests, power assisted steering, ABS power brakes and cruise control. The turning radius is remarkably short so driving will be easy, comfortable and safe. The cab has air conditioning and AM/FM stereo with CD player.

How about the living area?

All our RVs have a shower, bathroom, full galley, dinette, storage areas, and comfortable beds. They have roof air conditioning and a furnace with automatic thermostat control, water heater, range with oven and/or a microwave oven and a large refrigerator/freezer. In short, all the comforts of home.

What if I need assistance?

You’re not alone out there. You may call our special toll-free number, 16 hours a day, 7 days a week for Roadside Assistance. We’ll help you solve the problem, or get you to someone who can.

What about housekeeping supplies and equipment?

With the purchase of our optional housekeeping package, just about everything you need is supplied; towels for bath and kitchen, sheets, blankets and pillows. The kitchen is stocked with pots, pans, utensils, glassware, flatware, serving and storage dishes, electric toaster and an automatic coffeemaker.

How is the driving in Alaska?

Much like driving any two-lane rural highway in the “Lower 48”. There’s less traffic and more road construction. Roads are sometimes bumpier. Some roads are deemed hazardous and travel on them is restricted. These are identified on your rental contract.

“We are recommending our trip to everyone we know. We had a fantastic time.”

RV TOUR HIGHLIGHTS

WE MAKE IT EASY FOR YOU TO ROAM THE GREAT LAND IN YOUR ROOMY, COMFORTABLE RV. SEE EVERYTHING UP CLOSE, WITH TIME TO INVESTIGATE, TAKE PHOTOS, RELAX. HERE ARE A FEW OF THE HIGH SPOTS ALONG THE ROAD.

Alaska

Anchorage is Alaska's largest city, but you still sense the proximity of the wilderness and the frontier spirit. Among the sights: the world's largest seaplane base, and the Museum of History and Art. Witness the tidal bore along Turnagain Arm (conditions permitting), when a wall of water up to six feet high rushes up the inlet.

Homer, on the Kenai Peninsula, attracts fishermen, artists and seekers of spectacular scenery. Across the bay a timbered coastline rises to the glacier-capped peaks of the Kenai Mountains. Visit Homer Spit, a bustle with fisherfolk, a small-boat harbor, canneries, boat building shops and the occasional artist with an easel.

Denali National Park and Preserve is home to North America's tallest mountain, and to wildlife in amazing abundance. Weather permitting, you may catch a glimpse of 20,320-ft. Mt. McKinley long before you reach the park, from the highway between Anchorage and Fairbanks. To fully enjoy your time in the area, sign up for an optional tour, like the Denali Jeep® Backcountry Safari.

Fairbanks began as a Gold Rush town and has been thriving ever since. Here you may inspect the TransAlaska Pipeline, just outside of town. Pay a visit to Gold Dredge #8, and try your hand at panning.

Skagway was one of the liveliest towns in the hemisphere in 1898, when it was the gateway to Gold Rush Country. And it hasn't lost a particle of its spirit.

The whole down-town is a National Historic Park, with its well-trodden boardwalks and false-fronted saloons. Shopping is fun here, for anything from gold nugget jewelry to original works of Alaskan art.

The Alaska Highway

This historic road began as a one-lane supply line to Alaska at the outbreak of World War II. Today it runs from Dawson Creek, BC, for 1,520 miles to Fairbanks. Along the way you might spot moose, caribou, bison and Dall sheep.

Kluane National Park and Preserve, between Whitehorse and Beaver Creek, is an UNESCO World Heritage Site. It contains some of Canada's highest peaks and is a prime wildlife-viewing area. The Alaska Highway skirts crystal-clear, glacier-fed Kluane Lake for 40 miles while the snow clad, 7,000-ft.-plus Kluane Ranges parallel the highway to the west. Take side trips into the park for trout fishing, gold panning, walking the tundra and marveling at colorful wildflowers. The scenery is incredible. You may glimpse distant giants of the St. Elias Mountain Range.

The Yukon

Whitehorse, capital of Yukon Territory, is a friendly modern city that provides vivid reminders of its Gold Rush beginnings. Here, on the banks of the Yukon River, the prospectors who struggled up from Skagway had their first chance to dry out after running the treacherous rapids of the Yukon River. You may visit the grand old sternwheeler, S.S. Klondike, permanently anchored on dry land by the riverside. Take the whole family for an evening of hilarious history at the Frantic Follies Vaudeville Revue.

Dawson City is a perfectly preserved Gold Rush town. Hardly anything has changed since the boom days when thousands descended on the town to get rich quick.
